

DENY RUMORS OF SILVER LAKE BANK BANDITS' CAPTURE

Reports Are Without Foundation, Cashier Erik Hanson Says

Rumors afloat here during the last few days to the effect that the bandits who held up and robbed the Silver Lake State bank on the morning of November 6 had been captured and lodged in jail at Burlington or Kenosha today were emphatically denied by Erik Hanson, cashier of the bank, and his assistant, Clifford L. Janke.

"The rumors have been persistent, but they are entirely without foundation as far as we know," Mr. Hanson declared. "We have received many inquiries by telephone regarding the rumor, but of course we have been unable to give any information whatever. Our insurance company paid us the loss, amounting to $2,785.50, the day following the robbery, and it was the company which took up the task of capturing the bandits. Secret service men are working on the case, but thus far nothing has been reported to us."

Aside from the fact that one of the bandits appeared to have worn spectacles, deduced from the fact that a chain hung from his pocket, neither Hanson nor Janke were able to give any descriptions that might lead to the identification of the two holdup men.

Legion Men Plan to Top All Previous Membership Records

The Antioch American Legion has over 40 paid members for the ensuing year, and officers of the post declare prospects appear bright for topping all previous membership records in 1931. This will be in line with the wishes of District Commander Kapschul who has placed the membership mark for the local post so high that every ex-service man in the community will have to belong in order to bring the membership to the 100 per cent mark.

The regular meeting of the post will be held Thursday night at the village hall. The business session will be followed by the serving of refreshments.

All Legion men are asked to attend the meeting and assist Commander Widom to get the new year going smoothly.

The Eighth District regular monthly meeting will be held at Grayslake Friday night of this week. Some very important business is to come before the meeting.

Chindblom Wins Over Hesse by 2,000 Votes, Recheck Indicates

Doubt over the outcome of the election for congressman from this district is ended, Carl L. Chindblom being the victor by over 2,000 votes, according to figures now available before the Cook county election board.

Although the final tabulations in the recount of two doubtful precincts are not yet known, Chindblom's majority of 2,388 votes is sufficient to insure his election, even if those two precincts should count up strongly for his democratic opponent, John E. Hesse. However, it is expected that Chindblom's gain will be increased when the balloting results of the two remaining precincts are established.

Chindblom was elected as congressman for this Tenth district, which he has represented since 1918, largely through the Republican vote of Lake County, one of the few which remained true to the G. O. P. ranks. The vote at present stands, 72,829 for Chindblom and 70,441 for Hesse.

ANTIOCH FUTURE FARMERS PURCHASE PURE BRED STOCK

Interest in pure bred dairy herds is growing as evidenced by students of Vocational Agriculture at the Antioch High School, who have purchased several animals this fall. Some have been bought to start the building of a pure bred herd and others to continue the work of building started in the past few years.

Lloyd Atwell, of Lake Villa, has added his fourth Guernsey heifer to his small herd of pure breeds. Lloyd Barnstable has purchased a Guernsey cow and heifer calf making six pure bred animals for him. Harold Sheen of Salem recently purchased a Brown Swiss heifer from Stephens Bros. of Wadsworth, Ill. Clarence Galger of Lake Villa, Kenneth Hills and Russell Hunter of Antioch purchased Brown Swiss heifers from John Kaderebek of Nashota, Wis., recently. Considerable interest in Brown Swiss heifers have been introduced through the Agriculture Department during past two years.

The public is invited to attend this musical program. There will be no admission charge, but an offering will be taken to defray expenses.

Mrs. Corrin was so forcibly thrown in the car that two ribs were broken. Mrs. Corrin's injuries were not serious, and today she was reported to be recovering rapidly.

LIBRARY IS MOVED TO GRADE SCHOOL

Was Established 8 Years Ago by the Woman's Club

Tuesday was "moving day" for the Antioch Public Library. Since its establishment eight years ago by the Woman's club it has been housed in the village hall, but some time ago, these small quarters proved inadequate and prevented further expansion. Two years ago a library tax was voted by the village and this month this fund became available.

The Board of the Antioch Grade school has graciously donated the use of a vacant room for the library's use. This room is situated on the east side of the new building, and when that structure is completed will be used as the auditorium stage. It is admirably located, well lighted and ventilated, and with the new furnishings presents a very pleasing appearance.

The Library Board has purchased shelving, librarian's desk and chair, reading table, chairs, book racks and other necessities for equipment.

For the past few years, the library has been in charge of Miss Mary Stanley. Miss Stanley gives careful attention to the selection of books for the younger group of readers and also assists the teachers of both grade and high school classes in providing the books prescribed by their various courses. Beginning with Friday, Nov. 21st, the library will be open each Tuesday and Friday from 9:30 until 5:30 p. m. It is possible that a little later the board can arrange to open the room one evening each week for the especial benefit of adult readers.

The library has been of great service to the community, and its patronage is proof of that statement. As it was necessary to spend almost the entire revenue for this almost for equipment and running expenses, the board will not be able to purchase new books, so if any friend has a good book which he feels he can spare from his personal library the gift would be greatly appreciated. The librarian, particularly, asks for juvenile literature and modern fiction. Books by Zane Grey, Curwood and Will James are in most demand. Any contribution may be sent directly to the library or to any member of the Board.

The Library Committee is comprised of Elmer E. Brook, Frank R. King, Dr. R. D. Williams, Mrs. John Brogan, Mrs. O. C. Mathews and Mrs. W. W. Warriner.

Ben Miller Is Dady's Choice for Master-in- Chancery, Is Report

Attorney Benjamin H. Miller of Libertyville, will become master-in-chancery to succeed Judge-Elect Ralph Dady on December 1, according to press reports stated to emanate from authoritative sources. Judge Dady has indicated, it is said, that Attorney Miller is to be his choice for the post he vacates to take the circuit bench, but no official announcement has been made.

Attorney Miller has been a practicing attorney in Lake county for 30 years, and has been a resident of Libertyville for 50 years. He is vice-chairman of the Lake county Republican Central committee, and was an active worker for his party's candidates in the primary and election campaigns. He was one of the leading supporters of Ralph Dady during the latter's campaign for circuit judge.

Miller expects to move his law office to Waukegan and will occupy the rooms in the First National Bank building, now used by the firm of Edwards & Dady. When Judge Dady takes the bench, a new law partnership is imminent—that of Edwards & Miller. It is reported.

Antioch Legion Auxiliary Is Host to 8th District

Antioch Legion Auxiliary chapter was the host to officers of the various units in the eighth district last evening. Fourteen officers, including those of Antioch, were present at the chicken dinner provided in Somerville's Restaurant. The State Rehabilitation officer, Miss Miller, of Chicago, Mrs. Pantelas of the 40 and 8, Waukegan, and Mrs. Lucy Brown, district director of Lake Forest, and Mrs. Nora McShane, Secretary-Treasurer, were out-of-town guests at the dinner. Miss Miller, Mrs. Pantelas and Mrs. Brown spoke later at the meeting held in the Guild hall at which 160 were present. Mrs. Brown gave a report of the State as well as the National Convention.

The principal speaker of the evening was Bradford West, prominent Lake County Legionnaire of Waukegan, who explained the work of the American Legion for poor, who have served in the World War. Charles Kapschul, commander of the American Legion 8th district also spoke. An alternate district director, Mrs. Grace Tibbals of Waukegan, was elected.

New Big Gas Main to Supply Lake Towns

The combined gas generating and holder capacity of the entire Chicago area was made available to Lake Villa, Platteville Bay and other North Shore communities served by the Public Service company of Northern Illinois by the completion of a 48-inch gas main connecting that company's gas station at Niles Center with the North Shore. Holder of The Peoples Gas, Light and Coke Company, of Chicago, according to a recent announcement.

Increased demand for gas in the North Shore territory and anticipated future demand, caused principally by growth of this area and increased use of the fuel for house heating and other purposes, necessitated the new interconnection, officials of the Public Service company say. The new connection provides both for additional supply and emergency service and supplements the connection which has been existent for a number of years between the company's Evanston system and the mains of the Chicago gas company. It will assure adequate capacity to serve the communities affected for many years to come, it is believed.

Large future capacity is provided for by the use of new type couplings for pipe joints instead of employing the lead joints used almost universally for this purpose, enabling the main to carry considerably higher pressure than lead joint will allow. The main was designed for 25 pounds pressure, although the present operating pressure will be only about five pounds. This will mean that when the operating pressure is raised a large amount of additional capacity will be realized.

IOWA ATTORNEY OPENS OFFICE IN ANTIOCH

Guy C. Ellis Returns to Lake Co. After Absence of 16 Years

After an absence of 16 years, Guy C. Ellis, of Ida Grove, Iowa, today returned to practice the legal profession in his native state and county. His office was opened this morning in the First National Bank building.

Thoroughly conversant with legal practices in Illinois and other states by reason of his graduation from Northwestern University law school and his 16 years of practice, Attorney Ellis stated today that he was prepared to practice in all courts of Illinois as well as to attend to any matters requiring the services of an attorney.

Native of Lake County Attorney Ellis is a native of Lake county, son of the late George W. Ellis of Libertyville, and his mother was a descendant from the Luce family, also a pioneer family identified with the early history of Lake county. Soon after his graduation from Northwestern University, Attorney Ellis took up the practice of law at Ida Grove, the county seat of Ida county, Iowa, where he has been one of the leading practitioners for the last 16 years.

Desire to get back to his native state prompted Mr. Ellis to seek a location in Illinois, and his decision to come to Antioch was made after a careful survey of available locations in this locality. Attorney Ellis plans to move his wife and three children to Antioch after the close of the present school year.

Clower Is Acquitted of Coverston Murder

Frank Clower, 56, former proprietor of the Last Chance Inn on the state line, was acquitted of the murder of Eugene Coverston, Waukegan, in the Kenosha circuit court room Friday morning.

Clower took the stand in his own defense, and pleaded that he shot in self defense. On this ground, a verdict of not guilty was returned.

Eugene Coverston was murdered on July 26 at Clower's Inn, following a quarrel, in which Coverston's brother, Floyd, also took part. The jury debated for hours Thursday evening, and asked to have Floyd Coverston's testimony repeated.

Mrs. Josephine Lelsnor, and Gus Holmes of Kenosha, and Lawson Hall, Zion City, defense witnesses who had been jailed Thursday morning on possible charges of perjury, were released that evening.

GOV. EMMERSON WILL DEDICATE ROUTE 173 IN HARVARD DEC. 8

Floats Will Be Featured in Parade; Only 700 Banquet Reservations

Louis L. Emmerson, governor of Illinois, has accepted the invitation of the Harvard Chamber of Commerce to dedicate route 173, Harvard to Richmond, which has been definitely set for Monday, Dec. 8. H. H. Cleveland, director of public works and buildings, and Frank T. Sheets, state superintendent of highways, have also accepted an invitation and will participate in the dedication event.

Harvard is about midway between Zion City and the Rockton intersection with Illinois Route 2, which mark the extremities of Route 173, commonly referred to as the Zion City-Rockford highway. Thus it was that the Harvard Chamber of Commerce feel that it is proper that that city should sponsor the dedication of the public improvement.

Lake County Gap Lane With completion and opening to traffic of the stretch from Richmond to Rockton, and the Zion City-Rosecrans section about all that remains to complete this important highway is the Rosecrans-Richmond section, which has been held up on account of right-of-way difficulties, especially in the lake district.

One of the features of the dedication ceremony Dec. 8, will be two parades, one to start from Richmond and one from Caladonia in Boone county. These will proceed to and through Harvard. Each town along the route is being asked to furnish one or more floats to represent it. It is also planned to have several bands in the parade, and musical organizations of all kinds are invited to participate.

Banquet Reservations The day has been designed as "Saunders Day" to honor Eugene Saunders, postmaster and president of the Chamber of Commerce, who has, by his untiring efforts, made the new highway possible. Mr. Saunders and his committee of highway boosters are to be guests of honor at a banquet to be held at the local community high school auditorium at 6:30 o'clock on dedication day. State officials will also be present. The banquet is open to the public, although reservations to be made through the C. of C. are limited to 700.

A delegation from Harvard visited Antioch today, bringing news of the Governor's acceptance of the invitation to dedicate the route, and tickets for banquet reservations were left with Frank R. King at King's drug store, and with S. M. Wallace, commander of the local American Legion post. Those who plan to attend should apply for reservations immediately.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 10.
The Golden Text was, "As we have borne the image of the earth, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly" (1 Cor. 15:49).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God" (Colossians 3:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When understanding changes the standpoint of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of life, the control of soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle" (p. 322).

“In School Days”

HANS VON HOLWEDE SPEAKS ON MEANING OF THE ARMISTICE

First Basketball Game To Be With Lake Geneva December 5

“What the Armistice Means in Germany”

The following talk was delivered before the High school students on Armistice Day by Hans von Holwede, who gives lessons on orchestra instruments at the High school. Complying with the request of many of the students, we are publishing the speech. (Ed. note.)

“I feel greatly honored to have been invited to speak to you on this occasion, particularly realizing that I was an enemy of your country in that great war, which the Armistice brought to a close twelve years ago today.

The Germans knew that America completely defeated them, yet, instead of halting their conquerors, they have learned to respect, and more, to admire this great American Nation. When the American army of occupation entered into Germany, strange as it may seem, it was welcomed, due to the courteous treatment of our soldiers, resulting in the renewed friendship of the two peoples. It was proven that the American government had fought, not for material gain, but for the great ideals of democracy.

The loyal support of the American people to their government which fought against the Imperial government of Germany proved not to be a cause for continued hate. The German people welcomed the Reformer, hence the admirable friendship of these two nations.

The 11th of November, 1918 was a glorious, sunny day, but it found me in the hospital with an aching body, which had been shot 16 times. I had been prepared for an end, and end, even my own, for endurance of the inhuman straits of the war times much longer seemed impossible. An end had to come. That was that not said many times before, years ago?

Was not every German mother convinced through her prayers that an end must be in sight? Every soldier at the front was ready to bring it to a close, even at a loss. However, the unseen power of the tradition of the former German triumphs gave us strength and put new endurance into our tired, scar-marked bodies.

The Annual High School conference is being held at Urbana Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. No school will be held today.

or tomorrow at the High school as all the teachers plan to attend.

It has been the custom, as a special musical treat for the teachers at the Conference, and as an inspiration to those participating, to select the best singers from every school, and combine them into a chorus of 150 voices. Likewise an All-state Orchestra is formed by each school sending their best musician from the orchestra. John Tellalsha will represent Antioch in the All-state Orchestra of 150 pieces. Those singing in the Chorus, from Antioch are Vera Down and Ruth Fredericks, sopranos; Catherine Belger and Gertrude Hughes, altos; Richard Martin and Charles Cermak, tenors; and Sherman Olson and Tony Fuchs, basses. They sing before the teachers and visitors at Urbana Saturday.

The date of the Senior play, “The Patsy” has been fixed on Monday evening, December 8th. Announcement of the cast will follow later.

Thirty students from the eighth grade and their teacher, Miss Alice Warner, as a part of their study in Newspaper work, were shown the operations of the various presses and linotype machine at the Antioch News by John E. Moore, foreman, on Friday. Many of them now are realizing that there is more to a newspaper than the comic section and they are interested in the advertising and cost of publishing a newspaper.

NEEDS FOR RED CROSS SERVICE ON INCREASE, SAYS CHAIRMAN PAYNE

Disaster Relief and Service to War Veterans Make Heavy Demands—First Aid on Highways New Plan.

Demands upon the public services that the American Red Cross is organized to give are increasingly heavy, and will continue to be so in the future, John Barton Payne, chairman, has announced.

The two major services of the society—service to war veterans and their dependents, and relief in disasters—show each year a greater number of persons helped by the Red Cross.

Pension legislation passed recently for World War Veterans, and increased allotments to all Spanish-American War Veterans, have given to Chapters and the national society many thousands of additional cases to handle, Judge Payne said.

In the past year help was given in 108 disasters. Ninety of these were in the United States, twelve in foreign possessions and six were in foreign countries.

Health activities of the Red Cross also are being extended, especially in the rural communities where all health authorities agree the greatest need exists. Red Cross, with 794 nurses in its employ, is the greatest employer of public health nurses in rural areas in the United States.

In its campaign against accidental deaths, begun twenty years ago with its life saving and first aid programs, the Red Cross now has adopted an additional program—that of combating the huge toll of life from automobile accidents on the highways.

Expenditures of the Red Cross in the past year were $4,254,796.34, of which $1,208,161.09 was spent in disaster relief, the chairman pointed out.

"The Red Cross depends upon the public for its support, through their memberships enrolled each year in the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day," Judge Payne said. "We do not receive any support from the Government, or through other taxation, although as the President of the United States is president of the society, and one-third of its governing members are representatives of U. S. Departments. It ranks as a semi-governmental agency."

"By joining as a member, in the local Red Cross Chapter, once each year, during the annual Roll Call, every citizen will have a part in carrying on this great humanitarian task."

Motor Injuries Treated By Red Cross First Aid

In line with its work for the preservation of life and prevention of accidental death, the American Red Cross has adopted a new program of emergency first aid stations on the highways of the nation, where victims of automobile injuries will be helped.

In the last year 31,000 persons were killed as the result of automobile accidents and more than 1,000,000 were injured. As its contribution to the nation wide safety campaigns of other organizations, the Red Cross will aid through the emergency stations. A number already are in operation by Chapters on such important traffic arteries as the Westchester County, N. Y., park system, the Valley Forge and Gettysburg highways in Pennsylvania and the White Horse Pike in New Jersey, connecting with Atlantic City.

Saving Mothers and Babies Is Important Red Cross Task

Saving mothers' lives and better babies were important features during the past year of the Public Health Nursing Service of the American Red Cross. About four-fifths of the 794 nurses in the Red Cross work made more than 100,000 prenatal and maternal visits, in addition to assisting doctors in the examination of 1,309,409 school children.

Statistics reveal that the lives of two out of three American women who die in maternity cases could be saved if they received proper medical and nursing care. As more than 15,000 women die in the United States each year from various diseases of the maternal state, this means that more than 10,000 of these deaths are preventable.

Comfort Kits Sent 40,000 Service Men by Red Cross

Gay patterned cretonne bags, or comfort kits, containing articles useful and amusing, are sent by the Red Cross to 40,000 soldiers, sailors and Marines, on foreign service, as Christmas remembrances.

The little gift bags are donated and packed by women in Red Cross Chapters all over the country. They are despatched by Army transport in the early autumn in order to reach the foreign ports and posts of the U. S. services in time to be hung on the Christmas trees. Giving the remembrances from home is the outgrowth of a plan adopted by the Red Cross prior to the World War when so many National Guard regiments were on the Mexican border.

Cannon Ball Baker Smashes Coast to Coast Auto Speed Record by Six Hours

Following some of the trails which a century ago heard the creaking wheels of covered wagons, Cannon Ball Baker has chopped more than six hours off the transcontinental speed record. This map shows his route and elapsed time at several points. Inset shows Baker putting in anti-freeze just before his start from Manhattan Island.

Cannon Ball Baker, meteor of the automobile world and holder of more speed and endurance records than he can remember, has done it again. Using a Stutz automobile he has lowered the transcontinental speed record by hurling his car across the country in the almost unbelievable time of 60 hours and 21 minutes. The previous record was 67 hours, 8 minutes.

Baker is one of the most interesting and colorful personalities eating and sleeping on the trail in the automobile world. For 24 years he has been living a life of thrills, with death close on his trail more than once as he roared through mud, fog, cloudbursts, desert heat, and zero weather to hang up new records. He has taken part in more than 500 motor contests on track and road, has raced across the continent 101 times, and has driven more than twenty times the distance around the world in every conceivable type of contest. When Baker is hot on the trail of a new record, he subjects his own body to a strain commensurate with that of his machine. In his latest record breaking run from New York to Los Angeles he snatched a total of thirty minutes sleep on the entire trip. Yet so great is his physical endurance that after a Turkish bath and three hours sleep he said he felt "As fit as a fiddle."

"Lady Luck," says Baker, "is a much maligned woman. There is an element of luck in everything, but most of our failures and successes can be traced to the degree of care and forethought we exercise. No detail is unimportant. I exercise as much care in the choice of an anti-freeze solution for my radiator as I do in the selection of the automobile. On this trip I used a permanent one-shot solution, with the result that this was the first run across the continent in which the radiator cap was not removed. Yes, I've had my share of what we call tough luck, but generally it is the result of neglecting what we wrongly consider the unimportant details. In this game there isn't any such animal."

Lend Refreshing Tart-

The traditional Turkey feast, with both drumsticks waving triumphantly in the air for Baby's especial benefit, often has a substitute on the table of those not fortunate enough to feel justified in purchasing one for Thanksgiving Day. A recipe for chicken pie, and for roast goose is given to aid them.

Chicken Pie

Singe, draw and clean a four-pound chicken as usual. Disjoint, cut the breast into four pieces, cut the thigh and leg apart. Save the neck, wing tips, heart, gizzard and liver for soup. Put on the rest with enough water to cover and cook two hours.

Add two quarts washed, pared and sliced white potatoes. Cook 20 minutes, or until the potatoes are tender. Add 1 tablespoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley and two tablespoons flour mixed with a little cold water. Boil 3 minutes. Pour all into dish, cover with rich pastry. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven.

Pastry

Sift together 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon of salt; rub in very lightly 4 tablespoons shortening; add just enough cold water to make a stiff dough. Roll out on floured board and put over top of pie.

Roast Goose, Bread

Wipe inside with damp cloth, and season with salt and pepper; put in dressing and sew up. Push back skin and cut off neck. In the skin put 2 apples, which have been pared and quartered; tie the skin. Put in pan breast side up; dust with salt, pepper and flour. Place in hot oven; when browned baste with 2 cups cold water; turn breast side down and roast 2 hours, basting three or four times with cold water. Ten minutes before serving turn breast side up. Remove fat and make gravy.

Thanksgiving dinner is not quite complete unless a dish of sparkling cranberry sauce graces the table. Mint sauce also adds that final touch.

Cranberry Sauce

1 quart cranberries
2 cups sugar
1 cup water
Put all together into saucepan. Cover until it boils. Remove cover and cook about 10 minutes or until berries have all burst. Pour into mold; chill and serve.

For Cranberry Jelly strain and put into mold and chill.

Mint Sauce

1/2 cup chopped mint leaves
1/2 cup vinegar
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup brown or granulated sugar
Cook all ingredients in saucepan over very slow fire for about one-half hour. Do not allow to boil. Serve hot.

Along with squash, mashed potatoes, gravy, and coffee, or cider, as the basis of the meal, is the pumpkin pie. After baking the pie by the following recipe using more or less spice according to your family's taste, top with sweetened whipped cream.

Pumpkin Pie

2 cups stewed and strained pumpkin or squash.
2 cups rich milk or cream
1 cup brown or granulated sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon allspice
Mix pumpkin with milk, sugar, beaten eggs, salt and spices, and beat 2 minutes. Pour into pie tin which has been lined with pastry. Place in hot oven for fifteen minutes, then reduce heat and bake 45 minutes in moderate oven.

How to play Bridge
AUCTION or CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1930, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 3

Once in a great while it is possible to find a hand that combines the good points both of bidding and of play. Many hands are examples of good bidding or of good play but seldom of both, so that the following hand can be regarded as unusual:

Example Hand

|---------------------|------------------------|
| Hearts—A, 10, 2 | Hearts—9, 3 |
| Clubs—J, 6, 3 | Clubs—Q, 5 |
| Diamonds—Q, 9, 6, 4 | Diamonds—A, K, J, 8, 5 |
| Spades—K, 8, 5 | Spades—J, 7, 4, 2 |

AUCTION BIDDING:

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed; A passed; Y bid one spade; B bid one diamond; Z bid one spade; A bid two diamonds; and Y and B passed. Here is where Z had his opportunity and took advantage of it by bidding two hearts. He was "feeling for his partner's suit" and was rewarded by finding Y with strong support. All passed and A was confronted with the question as to his proper lead. The question as to his proper lead. The question as to his proper lead. The question as to his proper lead.

The proper lead with A's hand is undoubtedly the ace of hearts, followed with the deuce. Z should win, with the queen and lead a low club, finessing the nine in Y's hand. B is thus forced to lead with the queen of clubs. This play by Z is a very clever one, for B has no more trumps and the only way he can save game is by underleading the ace king of diamonds.

If he does this, A can win the trick with the queen and lead a third round of trumps.

Played in this way A B can save game; but how many players would be able to figure this out? Also note, the great difference the opening or defensive play makes in any one hand. Any other opening than the trumps or the ace king of diamonds gives Y Z an easy game and rubber. Study this hand from all of these angles for it is an excellent example.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Z, as dealer, should pass. A should pass and Y should bid one club. B should bid one diamond. Z one spade and A two diamonds. Y and B should pass; but Z should bid two hearts, just as he did in the auction bidding. A pass and Y is justified in bidding two hearts. This will be made, unless the defense is perfect, as already pointed out.

Here is an example of end play that comes up very frequently:

End Play Example

|----------------|---------------|---------------|
| Hearts—none | Hearts—none | Hearts—none |
| Clubs—none | Clubs—none | Clubs—none |
| Diamonds—none | Diamonds—none | Diamonds—none |
| Spades—A, Q, J | Spades—K, 10 | Spades—K, 10 |

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win all of the tricks against any defense? This little end play is a simple example of the power of the discard. Z should lead the seven of clubs. A should discard the deuce and Y the jack of spades. But what can poor B discard? If he discards the jack of diamonds, Z's eight of diamonds and Y's ace of spades will win the next two tricks. If B discards the ten of spades, both of Y's spades are good, so that once again Y Z must win the next two tricks. This forcing the discard of winning tricks from a player's hand is called the "squeeze" and is a play loved by the experts. Try to understand and apply this play and you will get just as much fun out of it as the expert.

Problem No. 1

Hearts are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win seven of the eight tricks against any defense? Solution in the next article.

TOPPY'S TRAVELS

Synopsis: Toppo leaves his home to follow his canary, Lanny, who flies away. While guarding the son of an enemy queen to his queen, whom he had taken prisoner, he falls asleep. His queen is imprisoned by the enemy again, and the enemy queen's son is taken back. Toppo is put in chains. Continue—

The guard shook him roughly in the chains, but Toppo refused to tell where the sword was hidden.

At length Toppo grew so tired, that he cried out desperately, "Why don't you kill me then?"

The guard laughed. "That would be too easy. We never kill people, we just let them die."

"Don't you ever? What do you do if you want to get rid of an enemy in a hurry? Don't you ever kill them?"

"Yes, we do occasionally, but not usually. There's not such a great rush about things in our country."

But why do you ask so many questions?" the guard added suspiciously.

"What difference does it make, if I'm going to be left here to die?"

Toppo answered wearily.

"Tell us where the sword is, and we will give you something to eat."

The guard said craftily.

But Toppo refused. The guard threatened him, and then turned to leave the room. Toppo heard a funny croaking noise, and there was Mr. Frog peering in through the crack, where Toy had come in. "Ha, ha," he croaked merrily. "We've got you this time, old guard. You're locked in."

The guard rushed to the door in a frenzy, and found it to be locked.

"Ha, ha!" Mr. Frog taunted. "I'll tell you a thing or two now. Didn't know I could jump as high as a key-bolt, did you? General Toppo has powerful friends who watch constantly. I watched you go into his room, and leave the key in the door."

"Let me out," the guard shrieked, "or I will kill Toppo!"

"Huh!" Mr. Frog snorted even more than usual. "You have no weapons. You're too soft to kill a strong general like Toppo."

The guard knew that he spoke the truth, so he said nothing.

"Are you hungry?" Mr. Frog suggested pleasantly.

The guard glared, but still refused to reply.

"If you are not hungry now," Mr. Frog continued "you soon will be."

The guard was silent.

"You act terribly stupid," Mr. Frog went on, "but I doubt if you are so dull, that you can not think of a way to put me in a good humor, so that I might free you."

At last the guard spoke. "But if I free General Toppo, I would be tortured and finally left to die by my own people."

"Oh, I don't know," responded Mr. Frog.

"General Toppo is not a very ungrateful person. If you freed him, I believe that if you begged him on knended knees, he might even be persuaded to protect you with his famous sword."

"Go away," the guard stormed, pacing around the narrow cell, which was very beautiful, adorned with precious jewels, as the Cloud-Queen's prison had been.

"All right," Mr. Frog agreed cheerfully. "I'll go away, but I'll be back after a while, and see if there's anything you can do for me."

This change cheered Toppo considerably. He only wished that Mr. Frog was strong enough to force the guard to give him the key to his chains, but he felt that he could wait in chains for a long time, if he could get something to eat. At any rate, the guard would get just as hungry as he did.

For some reason, the guard grew very angry and beat upon Toppo with his soft hands, but this didn't hurt Toppo at all.

Thinking to forget his empty stomach in sleep, Toppo closed his eyes, and said with a funny little laugh, "If you feel like letting me out of these chains just wake me up, will you, please?"

As he fell asleep, he heard the guard muttering wrathfully to himself.

CHEVROLET'S NEW MODEL SHOWN AT LOCAL SALESROOM

Announcing New Car Is Tremendous Job—Official Says

AUTOMOBILE AFFECTS OTHER INDUSTRIES

Thousands of people who thronged showrooms throughout the nation last week to get their first view of the new 1931 Chevrolet commented particularly upon the features new to the low priced field achieved in the current line of Fisher-Chevrolet models. The new model was seen here Saturday at the Whitmore Chevrolet salesroom.

First remarked among the new features are the increased size and roominess made possible by the longer wheelbase, while numerous other changes not obvious to the eye combine to make the bodies stronger, more rigid, and as completely squeak-proof as human ingenuity can devise.

Auto Helps Other Industries
 The extent to which the industrial structure of America leans upon the automobile, was vividly illustrated following the placing of an order incidental to announcing Chevrolet's new 1931 models.

The order called for 171,816 feet of material, or a ribbon of canvas 33 miles long and 36 inches wide, to be made up into banners for dealer's showroom displays and for signs to be used in sales meetings being held throughout the country.

Less than 5,000 yards of the material were available in Detroit. Due to low inventories resulting from curtailed operations this year, a search of wholesalers, bleachers and mills in of wholesale parts of the country, re-vealed a supply of white canvas on hand still 20,000 yards short of filling the order.

To meet the demand within the specified time, a mill in South Carolina which had lain idle, got into production on a 24-hour day schedule. Mills in other parts of the country were put to work overtime. To produce the finished banners and drops, two plants manned with artists, sign painters, carpenters and laborers had to work on three eight-hour shifts a day.

"This one order resulted in the opening of three plants not then in production, and the employment of hundreds of men," explained H. J. Kilgator, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who directed the purchase. "Yet this order was not measurably larger than others we have placed from time to time for similar materials to meet the needs of our dealers."

"What happened in this instance—to the usual activity brought about through placing an order only for materials to announce the new car—may be taken as a pretty good indication of how all industry benefits through the automobile. Purchase of a car means work for the cotton picker and mill hand, the steel miner and worker, the lumberman—in fact all those people employed in the production or preparation of the larger number of raw materials which go into the building of the finished automobile."

ANTIOCH BOYS TO REPRESENT ILL. AT NAT'L POULTRY SHOW

The Antioch Poultry Judging team has been selected to represent Illinois at the Chicago Coliseum National Poultry show Dec. 1st, according to a telegram received by C. L. Kuill from the State 4-H Club Leader yesterday.

The team is composed of Harry Johnson, William Yopp and Ward Wilton, who have shown unusual ability in this line. They will run up against stiff competition, particularly from those states, such as Texas and Oklahoma which are known especially as poultry states.
